Who Needs A Work Permit?

If you are a minor (under 18 years of age), you will need to complete a work permit in order to legally be allowed to work in DC. All minors must be in possession of a valid work permit before beginning work, as required by the District of Columbia Child Labor Law.

Do not begin to work before you have received your work permit.

How To Obtain A Work Permit

1. Complete the Official Work Permit and Child Labor Application as instructed below:
   - Fill in the blanks in section A for name, address, date of birth, and sex.
   - Leave the rest of section A blank.
   - Have your parent or legal guardian fill out and sign section B.
   - If your employment will be with an on-campus employer, have your new supervisor fill out section C. If your employment will be with an off-campus FWS employer, leave this section blank, as Student Employment will complete it.

2. Attach to your application the following items exactly:
   - A copy of your birth certificate
   - A copy of your Social Security Card
   - A copy of the official signed offer letter from your employer

(Please note: while copies are what is necessary for obtaining a work permit, copies are not acceptable for other parts of the pre-employment process such as the I-9, which requires presentation of certain original documents).

3. Submit your work permit with the three required attachments to Student Employment. You may do this in person at the Student Employment Office (located in the Marvin Center, 800 21st St. NW, 5th Floor) OR by email to gwse@gwu.edu (please type “Work Permit Application” in the subject line).

After the documents are submitted, Student Employment will submit them to the appropriate DC Public School representative for processing. Processing can take up to a week after you submit all documents to our office. You will receive an email when your work permit is ready to be picked up at the Student Employment Office.

Regarding Background Checks: If your position requires a background check, your parent or legal guardian will need to sign a form to give permission. If a background check is required for your position(s), you will receive an email with instructions from Sterling Infosystems shortly after the department that is hiring you submits the hiring request. If you encounter any difficulties during the background check process, you may contact Sterling directly, or email HR at bgcheck@gwu.edu.
